"Great Balls of Fire" is a 1957 song written by Otis Blackwell and Jack Hammer. The song is best known for Jerry Lee Lewis's rendition, which reached # 2 on the Billboard pop charts, # 3 on the R&B charts, and # 1 on the country charts. It also reached # 1 on the UK pop charts.

The song title is derived from a Southern expression, which some Christians consider blasphemous, that refers to the Pentecost's defining moment when the Holy Spirit manifested itself as "cloven tongues as of fire" and the Apostles spoke in tongues. In the 1939 movie Gone with the Wind, Scarlett O'Hara (played by Vivien Leigh) frequently exclaims, "Great balls of fire!"

You shake my nerves and then you rattle my brain
Too much to love will drive a man insane
You broke my will, but what a thrill
I'm telling you goodness, gracious, great balls of fire
I laughed at love 'cause I thought it was funny
You came along and moved me honey
I've changed my mind, this love is fine

Aha, goodness, gracious, great balls of fire
Kiss me baby, feels good oooh
Hold me mama, yes, I'm gonna love you like a lover should
I chew my nails and I twiddle my thumbs
I'm getting nervous, but it sure is fun
C'mon baby, you're driving me crazy
Goodness, gracious, great balls of fire!!
