*The English version by same artist may be used if preferred : Song for Liberty (Universal Masters Collection)

**At the end of the piece of music there is a pause and then two strings which were cut off.

Globally speaking, Nana Mouskouri is the biggest-selling female artist of all time. Her fluency in multiple languages enabled her to reach audiences all over Europe, the Americas, and even Asia. Possessed of a distinctive, angelic soprano -- the product of having been born with only one vocal cord – Mouskouri's repertoire was varied enough to support the universal appeal she aimed for: jazz standards, well-known pop tunes from before and after the rock era, French cabaret chansons, movie songs, classical and operatic repertory, religious music, folk songs from her native Greece and elsewhere, and more.

(Lyrics by Claude Lemesle, Pierre Delanoë)

Quand tu chantes je chante avec toi liberté
Quand tu pleures je pleure aussi ta peine
Quand tu trembles je prie pour toi liberté
Dans la joie ou les larmes je t'aime
Souviens-toi des jours de ta misère
Mon pays, tes bateaux étaient tes galères

Quand tu chantes je chante avec toi liberté
Et quand tu es absente j'espère
Qui es-tu? Religion ou bien réalité

The Liberty song is an adaptation of the Slaves' Chorus (in the opera Nabucco by Verdi), originally known as the "Va Pensiero" song ("Fly, Thoughts, on Golden Wings"). It is said that, at Verdi's funeral, the crowd spontaneously broke into "Va Pensiero" and it is also known as the only "encore" ever allowed at the Metropolitan Opera.

Une idée de révolutionnaire
Moi je crois que tu es la seule vérité
La noblesse de notre humanité
Je comprends qu'on meure pour te défendre
Que l'on passe sa vie à t'attendre

Quand tu chantes je chante avec toi liberté
Dans la joie ou les larmes je t'aime
Les chansons de l'espoir ont ton nom et ta voix
La chemin de l'histoire nous conduira vers toi
Liberté, liberté
